Registering for Courses in "German as a Foreign Language"

This is my first time taking a German course at Freie Universität Berlin's Language Center.

1. Register

You can register your interest in taking a German course at the Language Center by using Form I.

The form is available online for about two weeks each semester. If you would like to attend a course held during the winter semester, you have to fill out the form in the second half of September; if you would like to attend a course held during the summer semester, you have to fill out the form in the second half of March.

Registration for SoSe 2025 opens 17.03.2025

Registration ends 31.03.2025, 9:00 a.m.

> Register

2. Take the placement test

You will receive an invitation to the placement test. You must then book a date to take your test.

The placement tests will be held during the two weeks before the German courses start. You will be given three dates to choose from.

Tests in SoSe 2025: between April 3 and April 9, 2025

Exemption: Beginners and students that took the DSH exam at Freie Universität

3. Enroll in a course

2. Take the placement test

You take the test.

You will receive a link to enroll in a course that best matches your language level.

I have already taken a German course at Freie Universität Berlin's Language Center.

1. Register

You can register your interest to take part in another German course by using Form II.

The form is available online for about two weeks each semester. If you would like to attend a course held during the winter semester, you have to fill out the form in the second half of September; if you would like to attend a course held during the summer semester, you have to fill out the form in the second half of March.

Registration for SoSe 2025 opens 17.03.2025

Registration ends 31.03.2025, 9:00 a.m.

> Register

2. Enroll in a course

In mid-October / mid-April, you will receive a link to enroll in a course that best matches your language level.

Last updated: 04.02.2025