

Tandem language partnerships at the FU Berlin

What is tandem?

Two partners with different native languages learn from each other. Tandem stands for stimulating language learning and cultural exchange.

What are the advantages of tandem?

- You are flexible regarding time and place for learning
- You choose learning goals and methods according to your needs and interests
- You practice language skills in authentic conversations

What does the tandem programme of the Selbstlernzentrum (SLZ) offer?

- A professional matching for tandem partners for all available languages
- A language advising service for language learners in tandem
- Study guides and tasks
- Various language learning materials and media in the SLZ
- A certificate for language learning in tandem
- A separate room for tandem or group work

How can I sign up?

Fill in the online application form: www.sprachenzentrum.fu-berlin.de/slz/tandem/fragebogen
We will look for a tandem partner for you and will contact you when you have been matched successfully!

More information on our website: <http://www.sprachenzentrum.fu-berlin.de/slz/tandem>

What should I do once I've found a tandem partner?

Contact your tandem partner. Discuss and agree your learning goals and methods, and follow these simple rules from our tandem agreement while you learn together:

- Meet up frequently, at least two hours a week.
- Take turns in teaching and learning.
- Devote an equal amount of time to each language and practice both languages separately.
- Stick to agreements and communicate with the tandem partner in case you cannot attend a meeting.

If you have questions concerning your learning projects, please turn to our language advising service at the Selbstlernzentrum!

We wish you a great learning experience with tandem!
